

Moscow Declares Nazis Are Trying To Sever Allies

London, May 16 (AP)—A Moscow radio commentator declared today that Nazi big-wigs being held in Allied custody "are spreading propaganda whose purpose is to break the unity among the three great powers that defeated Hitler's army."

Reichsmarshal Goering, and Field Marshals von Rundstedt and Kesselring were referred to specifically as "disciples of Goebbels." The commentator charged that American and British correspondents have been "only too eager to take down and disseminate whatever stuff" Goering, Gen. Nikolaus von Falkenhorst, Nazi commander in Norway, or Karl Hermann Frank, German "protector" of Bohemia-Moravia, wanted to be disseminated.

Analysis of the statements by the captured Nazis, the commentator said, "shows that there's a system in what they're doing with a stock of deliberate falsehoods." "Kesselring speaks about how absurd it was for two Germanic races to fight each other, while von Rundstedt proceeds to develop the utterly false and poisonous theory that Germany's defeat was not the fault of the army, but of the country's political leadership alone."

A dispatch from Augsburg said a ban has been placed on press conferences for German prisoners unless specific permission is granted by Supreme Allied Headquarters.

C.I.O. Head Urges Payroll Savings Through Bonds

Philip Murray, president, Congress of Industrial Organizations, has issued this important statement in support of the 7th War Loan:

"The millions of members of the C.I.O. on the home front in the past three years have invested billions of dollars in War Bonds. They have done so because of their patriotic desire to help win the war and because they know their government is the safest investment in the world."

"We are entering a critical period in the war and in the history of the nation. As we move toward total victory over our enemies, demands for unavailability products will increase although scarcities are expected to continue. As a result, inflation will become an even greater threat."

"One way in which members of the C.I.O. can help win the fight against inflation and at the same time protect their investments in their government is to put every possible cent into War Bonds. I urge every member to buy War Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan to the greatest extent possible."

"In the 7th War Loan drive, our government is asking us to meet a record quota of $4,000,000,000 in 7 days. I urge every member of the C.I.O. to sacrifice to the limit and in the drive buy more War Bonds than ever before. Our members can set an example for the workers of the nation. It will require more effort and greater sacrifice. I ask all C.I.O. members, officers of international unions, and their locals to give all the time and effort necessary to make this campaign the success it must be."

Ulster Hose Joins County Ass'n

Briggs, Murphy, Harder Address Company

Ellis Briggs, president of the High Falls Fire Department, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department and Fred Harder, secretary of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, were the speakers at the meeting of Ulster Hose Co., No. 5, of the town of Ulster. The fire company voted to become members of the county organization at the meeting.

Mr. Briggs in his address told of how a fire company should be organized and that to keep the members there should be social activities and the importance of the fire company to the community stressed.

Fire Chief Murphy called attention to the fine work being accomplished in Ulster county by the adoption of the mutual aid system, which has resulted in keeping down fire losses throughout the county.

At the close of the meeting the fire company elected two of its members to serve as delegates to the meetings of the county firemen's organization.

Democrats See Tariff Victory

Committee Is Called for Showdown Vote

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Democrats predicted victory today in the first congressional test on major legislation the administration says is essential to postwar international economic cooperation.

"The House Ways and Means Committee was called by Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) for a showdown vote on a bill giving the President broad new authority to reduce tariffs in reciprocal trade agreements with other nations."

Doughton voiced confidence of victory for the first time after a caucus of the 15 Democratic members of the committee. Four of the 15 previously had been in the doubtful column.

Some attending the caucus said they expected to lose only one Democratic vote.

The 10 committee Republicans are aligned solidly against the legislation. If they could win over three Democrats the bill would be defeated.

The measure would extend the 1934 Reciprocal Trade Act for three years with an amendment giving the President authority to limit tariffs up to 50 per cent of January 1, 1945, rates.

Under present legislation, which expires June 12, the Executive can cut duties 50 per cent below the rates of the last Republican Tariff Law, the Hawley-Smoot Act of 1930. The new authority would allow cuts up to 75 per cent in Hawley-Smoot rates on some items.

The State Department said this would allow tariffs to return to the approximate average level of the old Underwood Tariff Law. Its spokesmen described the legislation as a companion to the pending Bradley Woods Agreements for a world bank and currency stabilization.

Republicans, led by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), contend a further reduction in tariffs might bring ruin to hundreds of small industries, and idleness to hundreds of thousands of American workers.

The Republicans agreed to support a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, without new tariff cutting powers, on the condition that in the interim Congress work out a system for trade agreements "that are genuinely reciprocal."

Clay Says Allied Rule Will Be Strictly Military

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, May 16 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Gen. Eisenhower's deputy for the military occupation of Germany, declared today that "the Allied government in Germany is going to be military and the Germans know it's going to be military."

"The United States is going to stay in Germany in all probability for a long time," General Clay said.

He explained carefully that Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force still is operative and that he was speaking for the U. S. Group Council which will take over after S.H.A.E.F. finishes.

Clay said these were the initial aims of the American occupation:

Smash all that is left of Germany's potential to make war.

Smash all vestiges of Nazism.

See that all war criminals are caught and punished.

Clay was the main speaker in one of the longest and most detailed press conferences ever given at S.H.A.E.F. Brig. Gen. Frank J. McSherry, chief of staff of the military government section of S.H.A.E.F. and Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure, chief of the public and psychological warfare division of S.H.A.E.F., answered specific questions.

These high spots came out of the half-hour meeting:

It will be Allied policy to turn over to any Allied government anyone wanted by that government as a war criminal.

German civilian machinery will be established only on a very low civil service level to keep essential functions going.

The exact boundaries of various national zones of occupation are not yet defined, but the outline is expected within a few days.

The only industries being re-established in Germany are those essential for relief problems and transport needed by the military.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 16 (AP)—The stock market rose fractions to more than a point today with peace-related issues taking the play in moderately active dealings.

President Truman's insistence that the tax rate remain high until after Japan's defeat seemed to be counteracted by other government reports that cutbacks in war output were slower than anticipated.

War Production Board Chairman J. A. Krug's statement that substantial amount of typewriters, washing machines and other household appliances could be expected by September bolstered favorites which are expected to benefit by a return to peacetime operations.

Bonds were steady and commodities mixed.

Strawberry Loss $750,000

Buffalo, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Unseasonable weather has ruined half the Erie county strawberry crop and 40 per cent of the raspberry yield, causing damage estimated at $750,000.

"Frost damage accounted for part of the loss, but a large part also is due to the fact the plants are not developing foliage nor setting up properly because of the cold, wet weather," Edward E. Eicht, assistant agricultural agent of the Erie County Farm Bureau, said last night.

New York, May 16 (AP)—The Department of Justice today filed an anti-trust civil action suit in Federal Court against the Electric Storage Battery Co. and the Willard Storage Battery Co., alleging a world-wide conspiracy in distribution of storage batteries.

The suit was filed in the Southern District of New York.

Votes Are Assured To Pass Regional Defense Program

plan, with the approval of virtually all the Latin American states and most of the big powers—Russia remains to be heard from on this conference over one of its biggest hurdles.

The greatest obstacle remaining, in the opinion of United States authorities, is the development of a formula for setting up international trusteeships that will allow the United States and other powers to develop military bases they believe necessary to security.

This country is especially concerned about retaining Pacific bases captured from Japan. The British delegation last night received London approval of a tentative Anglo-American trusteeship formula. But on this, too, Russia remains to be heard from.

The Pan-American conference to draw up a long-term treaty to replace the wartime pact made at Mexico City in March probably will be held at Washington in November.

Has Right to Plan

The heart of the United States proposal is that any group of nations has the right to plan collectively for its own defense so that if the projected world security council fails to prevent an armed attack on one of them all the others can go to its assistance.

Latin American leaders originally had wanted the hemisphere system exempted from control of the world council entirely, but they agreed to accept this formula, which keeps the authority of the council intact. Stetinius announced the formula after conferring with them and with big-five delegates. Only Ecuador and El Salvador said they needed until today to think the matter over before giving their expected approval.

The United States formula was scheduled to go before a meeting of the conference committee on regional arrangements last night but was delayed. A subcommittee was called for today with the prospect that it would pass out a formal action on the amendment until another full committee meeting tomorrow.

Now that the collective defense theory has been advanced with assurances of acceptance, fears of small nations about big power veto control of peace-keeping machinery appears to be vanishing.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) yesterday submitted to a committee on powers of the assembly a big-five proposal designed to meet some, but not all, of the small nation demands for more power.

This would let the assembly recommend to the security council actions for maintaining peace and security, disarmament, and armament control and call the council's attention to dangerous situations threatening peace. But it would not let the assembly take up a dispute on which the council was already working.

Two Plan Opposition

When the representatives of New Zealand and Brazil had a look at this they announced they would vote against a pending proposal to let the assembly take up questions already before the council. This proposal was then defeated in committee.

There were these other test votes also on small nation issues:

1. Mexico wanted to give the assembly virtually equal authority with the security council for enforcing the use of force against offending nations.

2. New Zealand offered an amendment to the Dumbarton Oaks plan which would empower the assembly either to vote concurrently with the council or to review council decisions. This mustered only four "aye" votes.

On the other hand, the United States approved in principle a Canadian proposal that a nation whose forces were to be used in a peace-keeping action should sit with the council when the decision was made. But Russia had this referred to a subcommittee to determine whether the nation thus temporarily associated with the council should have the right to vote or merely to express its views.

Newburgh Plans Big Demonstration

"I Am an American Day" Celebration Sunday

Newburgh is planning for a big parade on Sunday—I Am an American Day—when an armada of 40 Stewart Field planes will stage a spectacular aerial review over that city, while the streets will bristle with heavy and light armament from West Point. More than 6000 persons are expected to march in the parade.

The parade will be followed by exercises in Washington's headquarters park when Col. J. Tracy Hale, Jr., who was wounded in France in the first World War and also in jungle fighting against the Japs in the current war, will be the principal speaker at the exercises.

Federated Women's Clubs Hold District Meeting at First Baptist Church Hall

About 125 women from the third district of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs attended the meeting held at the First Baptist Church yesterday. Mrs. Burr Stark, director, presided. Counties represented were Albany, Columbia, Greene, Schoharie, Rensselaer, Sullivan and Ulster.

The federated clubs are emphasizing this year community problems which can be solved through the work of the women. Many ideas on prejudices, legislation, education and young people's programs were discussed by state chairmen.

During the morning session the county chairmen made the annual reports reviewing the activities of the year. The Chatham Club was honored for having the largest number of members attended in the visiting groups. Fifteen women were present. The morning invocation was led by Mrs. A. Noble Graham, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag led by Mrs. Maynard Mize. The singing of the national anthem with Miss Lucinda Merritt at the piano.

Greetings from the hostess clubs of Kingston, Sorosis, Twentieth Century and Coterie were extended by Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh, president of Coterie. The response was made by Miss Nellie Gordon of Cobleskill.

International Relations
At the morning meeting Mrs. William Melchior of Syracuse, chairman of international relations, was introduced and spoke to the group concerning the need for a United Nations Organization. The initials of such a group U.N.O. spell the word meaning one which would signify the purpose of the organization. She cited the San Francisco Conference as typical example of Anglo-Saxon democratic Christian procedure where even delegates have a voice. She urged that the clubs promote the democratic principles in the community to set the pattern for the world.

Luncheon was served to 114 women at the Stuyvesant Hotel followed by the afternoon session at the church hall. This meeting opened with a musical program of vocal solos, "Down in the Forest," by Ronald and "Lassenburg Gardens" by Manning, sung by Miss Elizabeth LaFour, accompanied by Mrs. Lester Decker; and a two piano group, "Easter Dawn in the Hollywood Bowl," by Cadman, and "Andalucia," by Lecuna, played by Mrs. Walter H. Tremper and Mrs. Decker.

State President Speaks
The first speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Ward Gorman of Watertown, state president. She outlined the work for the club year particularly urging the women to express their opinions and to also put ideas to work. First of all she spoke of working for the peace with one of the aims. "The united nations is indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

The state federation has a working council this year who has material available for programs in local clubs who desire information to continue the study of some of the most pressing problems of the communities today. Among the first to be discussed after the International Affairs would be the racial and minority groups; the veterans' aids where Mrs. Gorman urged the clubs to cooperate with the already established community project; the spiritual, economic and cultural groups in the community; the type of motion picture being shown and the fine arts groups. Her closing point was the need for securing the American home and for "developing our own peace tables of human understanding."

Next to speak was the chairman of education, Mrs. William H. Golding of Cobleskill. She spoke of the New York State Educational system and praised the board of regents for maintaining a high standard. Since the Army has made such great advances in the education field particularly developing a number of men who in schools were not able to make the grades, Mrs. Golding believes the schools will need some changes also. She asked all of the club members to study their own school systems and suggest improvements.

Also in connection with the educational department Mrs. Golding spoke of the Springfield plan where all are treated equally. She stressed the idea that "children are born without prejudices, it is the adults who cause them." She also pointed out that the Negro does not desire social equality but does want educational and employment equality. She also stated that the person who is of the most help to her community is the one who is well balanced and whose mind is open to see all sides of questions.

Consider Legislation
Items for consideration in the legislative field were discussed by Mrs. Burton M. Chase. First of all she asked every group to devote a part of each meeting to summing up the bills before the legislature and then, after forming opinions, to write to the representative or senator from the district expressing these opinions. She also spoke of the recent passing of the anti-discrimination bill in the state legislature but warned that it would only be effective if the people were willing to make it work.

A second bill which she discussed and which is being brought before the people as an amendment to the constitution this year concerns the veteran and the civil service positions. In the proposed change a veteran may be jumped to the top of the list. While everyone is in favor of doing all possible for the returning service men and women, Mrs. Chase pointed out that this bill would also make possible the jumping of one veteran ahead of another who might be more deserving of the job; thus defeating its own purpose. Careful consideration of each bill was requested.

Reports on home decorations and home finance were given by Mrs. Edwards of Kew Gardens, L. I., on the parents' court and land army by Mrs. Frederick Gilson, chairman of youth conservation also of Long Island and a brief summary of school lunch programs now conducted in many of the schools was given by Mrs. Guy Cheney of Corning.

This has been developed particularly in the last few years when it became necessary for the mothers to work and the children were either left alone for the noon meal or sent to a restaurant to buy lunch.

Other guests who were introduced included Mrs. William G. Acosta of Long Island 4th District director; and Mrs. Allen Moore of Albany, past president of the state federation.

Local Committees
Members of the local clubs who were active on the various committees for yesterday's meeting were: Time keepers, Mrs. Conrad J. Heiselman, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Theron Culver, Mrs. DeWitt Wells; registration and credentials, Mrs. Ward Brigham, Mrs. Raymond Woodard, Mrs. Frank Mason of Saugerties, Mrs. Clarence Dumm; reception and hospitality, Mrs. Robert Baylor, Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Arthur J. Bobby Steltz Holds Home Club to One Hit in 7 Innings

Maroons Play Middies Friday; Poughkeepsie High School on May 22nd

With Bobby Steltz pitching one-hit ball, Kingston High School baseball squad shut out Saugerties Tuesday afternoon there by the score of 10-0. The Maroons turned in one of their best performances of the year as they gathered 12 hits off two Saugerties hurlers. This win sets the Kingston record back over the .500 mark as they have now won three and lost two.

The forces of Coach Pete Hatch will travel to Middletown Friday afternoon to meet the Middies in a DUSO contest which will end the first round of the DUSO season. Tuesday, May 22, the Maroon travels to Poughkeepsie for a free lance affair with the forces of Sam Kalloch and Friday, May 25, the Hatchmen return to the municipal stadium for a Duso contest with Port Jervis.

After the first inning of Tuesday's game, it was Kingston all the way. Aided by three costly errors by the northern Ulster school the Maroon gathered five runs in a big second inning. Doubled by Tex Brown, Bill Glaser and Dick Dulin and a single by Johnny Vertetis also featured that big Maroon rally.

It was in that second inning that the Blue and White gathered their only hit, a double by Pete Misasi along the right field foul line. However, Steltz was saved from any scoring threat by some quick thinking by Johnny Vertetis when he pulled the ancient hidden ball trick and made the putout via an underhand throw to Bill Murtha.

Another double by Tex Brown and an error by Saugerties gave the Maroon another rally but after that it seemed as though Freigh had things under control after he relieved Donor control after he relieved Donor control after he relieved Donor control.

The final Maroon uprising came in the last frame when successive doubles by Cy Brown and Bob Murtha, and Bill Glaser's third hit of the final two runs across the plate.

College, High School Sports Hit by Latest Cut in Travel

Washington, May 16 (AP)—All post-season events and many high school tournaments were ruled out today by the Office of Defense Transportation's voluntary travel curtailment program for athletics.

College and high school athletic associations pledged their full support and an O.D.T. spokesman, stressing the program's voluntary nature, said the agency will not be "hard boiled" about putting it into effect.

"The spirit of the program calls for immediate cancellation of many events already scheduled," he said, "but there will be some cases where that might work a hardship. In those few instances we won't expect compliance."

O.D.T. officials also emphasized that New Year's Day events would be permitted if the transportation situation eased sufficiently.

The program includes these points:

Elimination of high school tournaments that involve the use of transportation facilities beyond suburban area.

Localize and simplify schedules of athletic contests; exclude contests involving an absence of more than 48 hours from campus; eliminate all unreasonably long trips.

Schedule contests only for home grounds of one or the other of the competent teams, or for fields located in cities between the respective home grounds of the competing teams.

Limit ticket sales for all events to the immediate vicinity of the contests to which they are played; discourage attendance at away-from-home contests by undergraduates, alumni and other sports followers not living in the vicinity of the contest.

Route team trips away from congested transportation centers and away from main travel arteries; reduce to an absolute minimum the number of athletes making trips; limit the number of coaches, cheerleaders and managers making trips, etc., not essential to the competition.

Where feasible eliminate transportation of equipment by truck by both teams of the home team's equipment; where feasible, replace home-and-home competition by two or more contests at a single location.

Eliminate from schedules all events not essential to the conduct of athletic events.

Announcing the program yesterday, O.D.T. Director J. Monroe Johnson said games scheduled at other than home fields might have to be eliminated unless the transportation situation improves before the football season.

Johnson said the program was approved by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, by Dr. John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education, by Dr. Paul E. Ellicker, executive secretary of the National Association of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association.

Luck Helps Naktensis Pitch 6-0 Victory

Albany, May 16 (AP)—Luck is with Pete Naktensis.

The big left-hander, Eastern League pitching king last year, hurled a no-hit game as Hartford downed Binghamton 6 to 0 last night but he was lucky to get a shutout. Nine men reached first base—seven on passes—and his teammates committed three errors.

While Naktensis was taming Binghamton with the first no-hit game of his professional career, Williamsport wallowed. Scranton 10 to 4 to jump into second place in the league standings. Wilkes-Barre defeated Elmira 6 to 0 because of the four-hit pitching of Claude Weldon. The Utica-Albany game was rained out and will be played as part of a doubleheader tonight.

Naktensis, a part-time athlete who works in a firearms company, had an 18-3 record last year and won seven games without a setback three years ago. Three men reached second in last night's game but Naktensis' wildness and his teammates' looseness disappeared long enough to allow the runners to die there.

Today's schedule:

Utica at Albany, 2 first at 8 p. m.

Wilkes-Barre at Elmira, 8 p. m.

Scranton at Williamsport, 8 p. m.

Binghamton at Hartford, 8 p. m.

Ex-Naval Officer Is Found Guilty

Federal Jury Says Brackx Acted as Spy

New York, May 16 (AP)—After deliberating two hours, a federal court jury yesterday found Laurence H. Brackx, 51-year old former lieutenant in the U. S. Navy Reserve, guilty on charges of engaging in war-time espionage and violation of the censorship code. Seven women and five men comprised the jury.

Brackx, who will be sentenced May 23, faces a possible death penalty on the espionage conviction. Ten years imprisonment and $10,000 fine is the maximum penalty for violation of the military censorship code.

Federal Judge Mortimer W. Byers denied a motion by former U. S. Attorney John J. Dowling, defense counsel, to have the verdict set aside "as contrary to the evidence and the law."

The government contended that Brackx had conspired with Axis agents in Italy, promising Commander Max Buzio, chief of Italian naval intelligence, that he would seek information about radar and airplane construction when he returned to America in 1941.

Brackx maintained that he had pretended to aid the Axis agents to enable his fiancée, Lucretia Gerardi, to get out of Italy. He asserted in testimony at the trial that he had helped the U. S. Navy by supplying information on foreign shipping.

Tobacco Is Rationed

New York, May 16 (AP)—Military personnel at most posts in the United States will be limited to six packs of cigarettes, 24 cigars or four ounces of smoking tobacco a week, effective June 3.

Under a War Department directive received by the Second Service Command and the Army Exchange Service, ration cards will be issued. The tobacco ration for Italian service unit members will not exceed one-half the ration for military personnel. Prisoners of war will not be permitted to buy cigarettes and cigars.

'Soft Generation' Myth Blasted on Battlefield

AP Newsfeatures

Having proved that the "soft generation" is a false label, Capt. Thomas A. Hackett turns to the home front and urges that all generations must buckle down to the real job of winning a war. Complaints are not in order, he says.

Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco, Calif.

To the readers of The Kingston Daily Freeman:

Years ago our fathers and grandfathers used to say we were "soft," that if an emergency arose, we would never be able to cope with it.

From Pearl Harbor through the Philippines attack and the present, the boys have proven they could "take it." In the Jap prison camps they went right on proving it—and they still are—despite all the efforts of our enemies to make us break faith.

The people on the home front are asked to cooperate in such ways as buying war bonds, donating blood, going without luxuries, carrying ration books—but this is the least they can do to support the generation that was told over and over again that it was "soft" and would not be able to "take it" when an emergency arose.

We cannot strike or quit our jobs until our enemies are defeated and our homes are completely safe from aggression. We cannot complain when because of transportation difficulties to the very front lines, we cannot get full rations. Therefore—those who are only asked to live in the security of their homes, working in the most modern of factories and still enjoying many of the benefits of a democratic way of life must not complain, either, until our job is done.

Sincerely yours,

CAPTAIN THOMAS A. HACKETT, Huntington, Long Island, N. Y.

Donovan Is Chosen To Aid Jackson

Major General Will Help to Prosecute Europe's War Criminals

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Major General William J. Donovan, chief of the highly secret Office of Strategic Services, will help prosecute Europe's war criminals.

Supreme Court Justice Robert M. Jackson, designated by President Truman as this country's chief war crimes prosecutor, today announced the selection of Donovan and two other top assistants.

Sidney S. Alderman, general solicitor for the Southern Railway, and Assistant Attorney General Francis H. Shea, both of Washington.

Jackson's announcement, issued by the War Department, referred to the three as "experienced trial lawyers."

Donovan, a Congressional Medal of Honor winner in World War I as leader of the famous "Flying 69th," long was referred to as the "Mystery Man" of World War II. The title grew out of his extensive European travels in 1940-41 and the hush-hush air surrounding O.S.S.

In the summer of 1940, he said he had been looking into the technique of the Nazi Fifth Column. The following spring he visited England, the Balkans and the Near East. In July, 1941, President Roosevelt named Donovan coordinator of information bearing on the defense program. From there he took over O.S.S. Now 62, he was an assistant attorney general in the Coolidge administration.

Jackson, in announcing the appointments, said he was setting up only a small staff "because of the work already going on in government departments on the subject of war crimes."

Jackson also announced appointment of Navy Lieutenant James B. Donovan and Gordon Dean, both of Washington, as members of his staff.

Lieutenant Dean, no relation to the general, is O.S.S. general counsel. Dean was a special assistant to Jackson when he was attorney general.
